The Arc of Somerset County hosted more than a dozen international volunteer visitors from the Henkel Corporation at one of their Employment Centers located in Branchburg on Thursday, Feb. 12.

The volunteers were from nine different countries and were here for a weeklong Henkel meeting. The volunteers visit to The Arc Employment Service Center was coordinated as a team building exercise as well as an opportunity for Henkel USA to show the individuals from other countries the type of community services they perform locally. Each of the volunteers got to personally meet and greet with the employment center folks as they helped them with a craft project of personalizing Easter Cards along with candy and treats that will be shipped to our Military overseas.

Gary Raykovitz, senior vice president - Product Development stated "We are very happy to have this opportunity to bring the Henkel employees The Arc Employment Center. The Henkel team was attending our annual meeting and this was a great chance to provide a helping hand to The Arc for a very good cause of offering support to our Military troops."

The Arc of Somerset County provides center-based adult programs at four facilities in Somerset County to more than 200 individuals. Activities are designed to fit the cognitive and physical skill levels as well as the interests of the individuals enrolled in the various programs.
